

POSITION DESCRIPTION

The Marketing Intern will provide support in the Marketing Department, gaining professional work experience in the marketing field with a professional theater company. The intern will assist in content creation, social media, public relations, playbill production, data collection and analysis, and implementing other marketing strategies. The intern will work closely with other members of the marketing team, as well as other artistic, programming, and administrative staff, and reports to the Marketing & Communications Director.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Generating content in support of First Stage's digital campaigns, including blog, video, social media, and other user-generated content.
- Inputting calendar listings, drafting press releases, media alerts and fact sheets, and assist with media opportunities as needed.
- Assist in monitoring First Stage's social media accounts, sharing content and engaging with social media audiences.
- Assist in playbill publications, including gathering artists' biographies, document editing, and proofing.
- Provide support to marketing campaigns as needed, including sales tracking, reporting, data entry, or copywriting.
- Other duties as assigned.

QUALIFICATIONS

- A self-starter that is equally comfortable working independently and with a team.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- Experience using Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, Outlook) and social media platforms is strongly recommended; knowledge in photo and video software is helpful.
- An interest in youth-serving non-profits and the performing arts.
- This internship is best suited for the student pursuing a degree in marketing, communications, public relations, arts administration or non-profit management.

Working hours are to be mutual determined by the intern and the immediate supervisor. This is an unpaid internship, although college credit may be applicable.

TO APPLY

Send resume, cover letter expressing interest and goals for your intern experience, and a writing sample to Jennifer Hubbartt at jhubbartt@firststage.org. No phone calls, please.
