

THE GREAT IGNORED

Content Advisory

Best enjoyed by young people ages 8 and up and theatergoers of all ages!

Every child is different and may or may not be ready for certain elements of each production. Read more about this show's age recommendation below.

The performance is expected to run approximately 90 minutes including a brief intermission – very young audiences may have difficulty staying connected for the full length of the show.

The show explores the idea of young people cleaning up the messes of adults, noir-style stage violence, and kidnapping. Some audience members may feel anxious as they watch the characters experience this, but young people will have their voices heard, and triumph in the end.

There will be moving lights, and loud music and sounds that may be overwhelming for those with sensory sensitivities. We offer sensory kits for patrons who may need them.
